DROGGED ALONG ROAD BY HORSE

J. Morgan White, of Bridgeport, Received Serious Injuries in a Runaway Last Night.

WAS FOUND ALONG ROADSIDE.

Two Bones in Left Leg Near Ankle Were Broken and One Joint Dislocated.

While driving toward this city last night about seven-thirty o'clock J. Morgan White of Bridgeport, Ind., was thrown from the buggy and dragged along the road for several feet by his frightened horse. He is now in the Grand hotel suffering with two broken bones in his left leg near the ankle and a dislocated ankle joint. His pain is very severe and the physicians found it necessary to give him opiates during the day to relieve his sufferings.

Mr. White was returning from Gings to this city when the horse became frightened at a lantern near the home of Nelson Aikens, about five miles north of the city. The animal soon became unmanageable and kicked himself free from the buggy. In the melee the driver was thrown from the vehicle and in some manner his feet were entangled in the lines. The horse dragged him down the road several yards when he finally succeeded in disentangling himself and was left at the side of the road.

Bert Nelson, who lives nearby heard the noise and came out to find the injured man in a semi-conscious condition. He was immediately loaded in a buggy and brought to this city and Dr. Lowell M. Green was called. Dr. Green was assisted in the work of setting the broken bones by Drs. Frank Green and W. S. Coleman.

Mr. White cannot remember many of the details of the accident. He only has a very hazy idea of what happened and can only remember the horse kicking and later dragging him along the ground. He felt that his end was near when he was being pulled along the road at a rapid gait by a frightened horse. He finally made one superhuman effort to free himself from the reins and then all was blank.

The injured man is a representative of the Reserve Loan Life Insurance company of Indianapolis and was in Gings yesterday on business. He is also a brother of Sam White, now of Dublin, but who formerly resided here and was employed at the Jameson blacksmith shop. Mrs. White arrived this afternoon to be at the bedside of her husband during his misfortune.

Mr. White is a member of the Knights of Pythias lodge and was provided with a nurse by the local lodge last night and today until the arrival of his wife. The horse and buggy in the accident was from the Davis Bros. livery barn. The frightened animal ran into the Coleman farm and from there was brought to the barn here.

WORK HAS BEEN STARTED

IS GLAD TO LIVE IN RUSH

Isaac Webb Returns From Land of Little Corn.

Isaac Webb, a well known farmer of the Bob Creek neighborhood, returned this morning from a visit through the southwestern part of the State. He says the little spindling corn stalks and dainty nubbins that he saw in many places visited, made him glad, exceedingly so, to know that he owned and lived on a good farm in old Rush, where the corn stalks are noted for their big circumference and great height and the ears of corn are sometimes measured by the yard-stick.

SUCCESSOR TO C. B. RILEY NAMED

Former Rushville Man Resigns as Secretary of the Indiana Railroad Commission.

IS UNDECIDED AS TO FUTURE

Joseph L. Reiley of North Vernon was yesterday elected secretary of the Railroad Commission of Indiana to succeed Charles B. Riley, resigned, says the Indianapolis Star. It is understood that Riley's resignation has been in the hands of the commission for some time, but was not acted upon until yesterday. Joseph L. Reiley has been secretary of the Democratic State central committee for several years. The retiring secretary states that he has a number of other interests and can not at present say to which he will turn.

THINKS KNOX WILL OUST HER SALOONS

Dr. Tevis Delivered Lecture for Drys in Vincennes Sunday—City is Wet.

BUT OUT - TOWNSHIPS ARE DRY

Knox county is holding a local option election today, and there is much local interest in the outcome. There is considerable doubt over the outcome, as the Anti-Saloon League realized that it was attacked on the hardest counties in the State when it went after Knox county.

Dr. V. W. Tevis, of this city, made a local option speech at Vincennes in one of the churches last Sunday, and he says it is one of the hardest fights the temperance people have had. He says he expects a large wet majority in Vincennes, but he thinks the majority in the out-townships will be large enough to overcome it, and that the county will oust the saloons.

BIG PURCHASE OF HOGS.

Trabue & Lyons of Center township recently made an unusually large purchase of hogs. They bought of Albert Leisure 678 hogs which weighed 220,550 pounds and the purchase price was $17,672.80.

SAME HERE.

The third "dry" week for Connersville came to an end Saturday evening. From all appearances the old town is wagging along pretty well without open saloons. There has not been a single arrest but that of three men who came home drunk after visiting other towns Saturday and Sunday a week.—Connersville News.

PLAYS PIANO FOR FIFTEEN HOURS

Chester B. Worth, Long Distance Piano Player Concluded Stunt at 10:30 This Morning.

BEGAN AT SEVEN LAST NIGHT

Was Surrounded by Chief Trainer and His Admirers All Night Long—A Trying Ordeal.

Chester B. Worth, long distance piano player, concluded his stunt this morning at 10:30 o'clock after playing fifteen and one-half hours. The young man was not exhausted, but decided it was useless to break the State record of thirty-six hours.

It was a mournful din that came from the Vaudeville theater this morning after young Worth, the pianist had played all night. He started at seven last night and kept up the music all during the long hours of the night and they were long ones too—the longest ones he ever experienced. He was feeling good today and expected to keep up the good work for several hours yet.

People have read about piano players establishing world and State records, but they were never in on the inside workings of the wonderful performance. It is more like a prize fighting ring where the trainers are rushing to and fro and the crowd cheering—only these were silent cheers. The world smashing feat is performed on an ordinary piano with two hands, and either a stool or ordinary chair may be used. Bed clothes, pillows and many other instruments of comfort come in good use.

Mr. Worth was surrounded by his press agents, trainers and admirers last night until the wee hours of the morning, many of them sticking through the ordeal all night. George Tucker, who ordinarily fills the position of machine operator, acted as chief trainer. He sat quietly by his patient with milk bottles and other administrators of relief in his hands always in readiness for a hurry-up call.

The trainer had many duties either thrust upon him or borne by him very willingly. He bathed Worth's face in cold water every few minutes and also so his arms in alcohol. He gave the pianist food whenever he called for it also chewing gum, tobacco and cigars. Worth sat on the piano stool until late last night when he began to grow tired on the continued strain of sitting in one position and was placed in a large comfortable chair and surrounded by cushions, pillows and blankets.

The task of playing continually is a very great strain on the nervous system as well as the body. The continual ring of the piano in his ears grew very monotonous as the hours went by and he inquired what the time was to find only fifteen minutes had passed when it seemed like an hour.

The crowd in the theater was large until midnight when they began to scatter to their homes and only a few of the patient admirers remained. No complaint was registered by the neighbors in Main street although many of them may have lain awake until the small hours of the morning. People swarmed in the theater this morning to witness the feat and were going and coming all the time.

FALLS OFF CHAIR.

Mrs. Elbert Atkins of Center township is suffering from a dislocated wrist. She was standing on a chair, when she became overbalanced and the chair turned over. She fell, and doubled her arm under her, fracturing the bone in the wrist.

CARTHAGE HOST FOR OLD TIMERS

Many Former Residents at Seventh Annual Horse Show and Home Coming Today.

RUSH COUNTY STOCK PRAISED

"Foreigners" Open Their Eyes Wide When They See the Thoroughbreds Trotted Out.

(By Claude Simpson of the Daily Republican.)

Carthage Ind., September 30.—There were more good people and horses here today than Carthage has seen for many moons. When you say seventh annual horse show and home coming it means something to Carthage people and others who were here today. That good old style of hospitality was seen on every hand and every door here today, and although the horses had the center of the stage and the middle of the street, the home coming feature was not overlooked.

It was "How are you John," and "Hello there Jack" and "Glad to see you Bill" every time you turned around. There are a lot of great people who have lived here and a lot more great people who still live here. But those who left didn't lose this opportunity to get back and it was really amusing to see them. It made one feel as though he wished he had been born in Carthage, just to have the opportunity to come back today. One of the notables who enjoyed the day about as much as anybody else and whose right hand was probably busier was Judge Sparks, who came up from Rushville this morning. And the judge did considerable hustling this morning in order to leave a busy term of court for a few hours too.

Congressman W. O. Barnard, with his smile and glad hand was a great mixer and he met a lot of people today. He said he dearly loved to come to home comings and when somebody suggested that politics might have something to do with his visit here he just laughed and said it was a mistake.

Carthage homes were open to visitors and there were several who left this afternoon with a full stomach and a glad heart and it's as good betting on Rush county horses to wager that those same people will be back next year. Many Rushville people were here and from the way they were acting they were having a big time.

Main street was wired off and the horses were shown here. Crowds lined the streets the full length of the "race course" and they felt well repaid for standing there and holding their places. The good prizes offered by the merchants brought out some of the best stock ever seen at a horse show here. It was the real Rush county kind and some of the horse buyers who were here today opened their eyes when they saw some of the stuff trotted out. People here say there will be several good sales made as the result of the show.

Races, real races were on the program this afternoon, and the drivers were out for blood, too.

"Look here man, my hoss has the hobbles on today and I'm out to win. No bluff about me," said one man at noon and those who heard, believed he meant it, too.

The Carthage band furnished music "between acts" and it's no slouch of a band either.

Altogether it was a great day for Carthage and the people who were here, and this afternoon there was much commendation for the men who promoted this event. Dr. Clark Gause was president of the association; H. R. Hall, secretary and treasurer; and M. F. Lovett, superintendent of the speed department. R. M. Whitton was marshal of the horse show and was assisted by Will and Jesse Siler. Bennett Webb served as town marshal today, but the crowd was orderly and he had little to do.

NO HUDSON FULTON STAMPS FOR SALE

Rushville Postoffice Did Not Receive Consignment of This Special Issue.

ARE TOO LARGE TO SELL WELL

The Rushville postoffice will have none of the Hudson-Fulton stamps which are causing so much comment over the State. An order was sent for 10,000, but it is thought that it reached the department too late to get in the supply. Many local stamp collectors are somewhat disappointed. It is said, however, that surrounding cities have more than they can get rid of, as the stamps are so large that people do not like to buy them in quantities.

EXPECT MANY FOR LECTURE TONIGHT

Christian Science Address by Dr. A. M. McCracken Will Draw from Surrounding Cities.

TO BE IN KRAMER COLISEUM

Dr. A. M. McCracken, who will lecture at the Kramer coliseum tonight on Christian Science, is expected to draw a large crowd. Workers in the church here believe that there will be many from surrounding cities here for the lecture. Mr. McCracken is one of the most brilliant lecturers on the platform today, and is thoroughly acquainted with the subject, being a great worker in the church. The purpose of the lecture is not to proselyte from other churches, but to answer some arguments which have been made against Christian Science, and to correct mis-statements which have been made.

UNUSUALLY SMALL NUMBER OF FIRES

Department Has Only Been Called Out Five Times in the Last Six Months.

ONE ALARM WAS FALSE

The fire department has had a remarkably easy time for the past six months. And also the city of Rushville has been unusually fortunate in not having any more fires. The record for fires is extraordinary, in that the number of blazes have been "alarmingly" small. From April 1st to October 1st, the company has been compelled to answer only five alarms. One of these was false, making only four fires in which the work of the department was really needed. In the four alarms in which all the members of the company participated over three thousand feet of hose were laid with a property loss of approximately three thousand dollars.

This is the Supposition of Friends of Miss Josephine Webb and Orban Wagoner.

REFUSED LICENSE LABOR DAY

Young Couple Left on Early Train This Morning For Cincinnati—Father Intervened.

Taking a tip from the Gregory-Laramore elopement last week, Miss Josephine Webb and Orban Wagoner left this morning for Cincinnati and their friends believe that they are now married. They left on the early morning train over the C. H. & D. evidently with matrimonial intent, taking into consideration the events of the past month.

Young Wagoner and Miss Webb were going to get married and it was only a question as to whether it would be in this State or in Kentucky. They applied for a license on Labor Day, but the county clerk could not see them because the would-be bridegroom's father had been there before. He said that his son was too young to get married and refused to give his permission.

Orban Wagoner has been causing much trouble at his home since his father's intervention with his plans and threatened to get married just as soon as the opportunity offered itself.

The supposed bridegroom resigned his position as machine operator at the Palace theater last night. He went home about eleven o'clock last night with his tools and started out again. His mother protested about his leaving at that hour of the night but he seemed disposed to think that was not her business. He did not come home again last night nor did he make his appearance today and his parents thought that he was out on the hunt of a position. They believe that the young couple were married.

GOING AFTER THEM

Harry Whitney Will Return North For Cook's Records.

St. Johns, N. F., Sept. 30.—Members of the schooner Jeanie, on which Harry Whitney arrived here from Indian Harbor, say that when Mr. Whitney learned in Labrador of the polar controversy and of the important bearing Dr. Cook's instruments have on this, he engaged Captain Sam Bartlett and his vessel to go up next year and recover Dr. Cook's belongings at Etah. Captain Bartlett himself declined to speak on this subject, but his manner gave the impression that the statement is correct.

AUTO RACES CLAIM ANOTHER VICTIM

Kokomo Mechanician Killed In Riverhead Races.

Riverhead, L. I., Sept. 30.—The running of the Long Island Automobile Derby was marked by the smashing of every existing record for automobile racing on the open road and a spill which cost the life of Mechanician James Bates of Kokomo, Ind., and serious injury to Driver Herbert Lytle, a well-known racing driver. The event was a stock car sweepstakes and was run over twenty-two miles of hitherto untrod road at the eastern extremity of Long Island, between Riverhead and Mattituck.

The casualties were caused by the skidding of the Apperson car driven by Lytle as it neared an easy bend in the road, two miles west of Mattituck. Lytle and Mechanician Bates had completed less than two-thirds of the first lap when the sixty-horse power engine, tearing down a slight declivity at a rate of sixty-five miles an hour, suddenly lurched to one side into deep sand and overturned.

Lytle shot clear of the car and landed twenty feet away on his back. Bates, however, clung to the machine and was crushed under it as it turned turtle. Both men were unconscious when picked up, and it was thought at first that neither had a chance for life. Bates never regained consciousness and died an hour later, but Lytle was able to recognize his wife and baby, who were hurried to his bedside at the hospital immediately after the accident, and there is hope of his eventual recovery.

The racing throughout was the fastest ever witnessed in open road tests in this country.

NIGHT RIDERS GET BUSY

Further Outbreaks Reported in the Bluegrass Country.

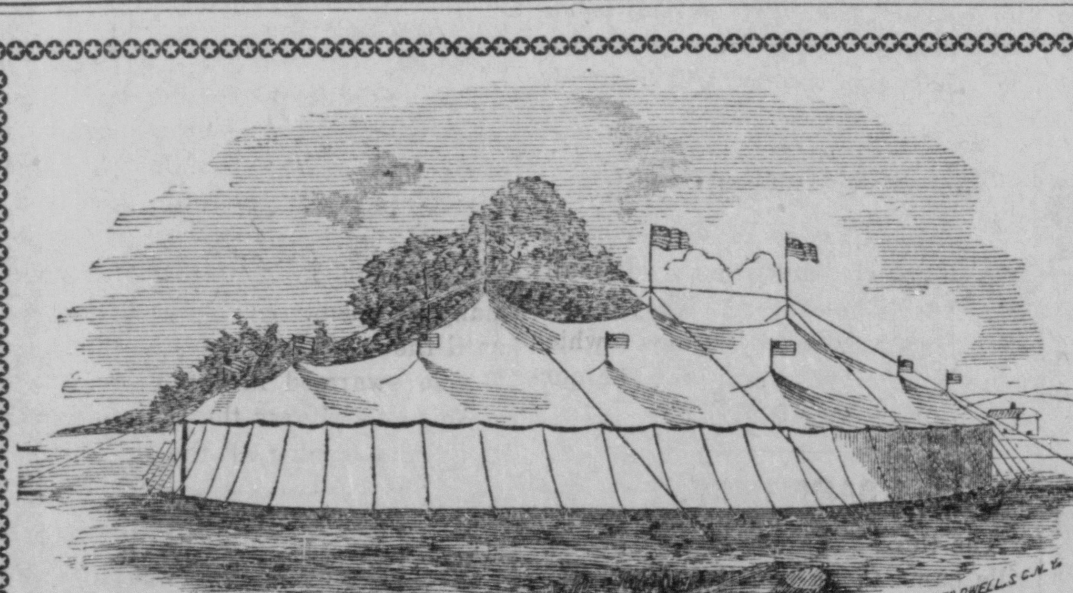

Paris, Ky., Sept. 30.—According to statements made by Judge J. J. Osborne of Cynthiana, who passed through here in connection with his court duties, there has been a fresh outbreak of night riding in the bluegrass country. A tenant on the farm of T. J. McDowell, who had steadfastly refused to join the pool of tobacco growers, was taken from his home one night recently, stripped to the waist and thirty lashes were administered. He was then ordered to be in Brooksville the next day and sign over his tobacco or suffer more severely. He complied with the request. According to Judge Osborne, a band of about fifty men rode through Milford, a small town, shooting out lights and breaking up a political meeting that was in progress.

SETTLING THE QUESTION

County of Which Vincennes Is the Seat Holding Option Election.

Vincennes, Ind., Sept. 30.—In this county today an election is being held under the provisions of the Indiana local option law. A fairly full vote is being cast in both the city and country precincts, and much interest is being expressed in the outcome.

Vincennes city, in everyone's opinion, will vote "wet." The country will vote "dry," and the question is whether the "wet" vote in the city will overcome the "dry" vote in the country. Unbiased investigators give it as their judgment that the "wets" must carry the city of Vincennes by a majority of not less than 1,600 to overcome what the country will do on the other side.

No More Gray Hair.

It is easier to preserve the color of the hair than to restore it, although it is possible to do both. Our grandmothers understood the secret. They made and used a "sage tea," and their dark, glossy hair long after middle life was due to this fact. Our mothers have gray hairs before they are beginning to appreciate the wisdom of our grandmothers in using "sage tea" for their hair, and are fast following suit. The present generation has the advantage of the past in that it can get a ready to use preparation called Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur. As a scalp tonic and color restorer, this preparation is vastly superior to the ordinary "sage tea" made by our grandmothers, and it can be bought for 50 cents and $1 a bottle at almost any first-class drug store, or will be sent direct by the Wyeth Chemical Company, 74 Cortlandt St., New York City, upon receipt of price.

SIDE LIGHTS ON E. H. HARRIMAN.

Origin of Famous Saying by the Late Financier.

HE ONCE DANCED IN PUBLIC.

Would Not Talk Business at His Arden Home and Offered Insistent Interviewer a Glass of Milk—One of Railroad Man's Favorite Stories.

In the famous insurance investigation in New York it came out that much of the money used by the late Edward H. Harriman in his railroad fights came from insurance companies. James Hazen Hyde, vice president of the Equitable Life Assurance society, appeared to be somewhat flattered by Mr. Harriman's attentions. Later at a directors' meeting Mr. Hyde made a speech accusing Harriman and friends of trying to kick him out and to get control of the society and its $400,000,000 assets. It was then that, white and speechless, Harriman sat back in his chair and gave forth sounds which those nearest to him said later appeared to boil out in one continuous torrent. His resignation as a trustee of the society followed.

"Not Yet, but Soon."

Before the Armstrong committee he told how on a certain night he had been kept at the Metropolitan club on one pretense or another while the deal for the control of the Equitable society was being put through. He said that upon hearing that Thomas F. Ryan had purchased control of the society he went to the new owner and demanded a half interest, which was refused. In his testimony he explained that as far as Ryan was concerned any effort he (Harriman) could make would be devoted to the destruction of an unworthy object. When asked by Mr. Hughes whether he had taken any step to accomplish this the answer came: "Not yet, but soon."

There was no mistaking the emphasis, and the words became a classic in Wall street history.

Harriman and Odell.

Charles E. Hughes when conducting the insurance investigation probed deeply into the intimate friendship of Mr. Harriman and former Governor of New York Benjamin B. Odell, and Mr. Harriman got off a now familiar joke. "It has been charged," Mr. Hughes said, "that through your relations with Mr. Odell you have political influence. What have you to say to that?"

"Well," came the reply, "I should say that Governor Odell had political influence because of his relations with me."

When Harriman Danced.

In Wall street there are afloat plenty of anecdotes illustrating the personality of the man in later years. Whenever the impenetrable reserve of the financier is mentioned the story is invariably told of the only time on record when Harriman ever showed any animation in public. It was in the fall of 1903, when the great Lucin cutoff, a pet project of Harriman's, was completed at Salt Lake City.

On this occasion Mr. Harriman danced. At the close of the ceremonies Mr. Harriman, who had been grave and dignified throughout, entered his private car to leave the scene. The band struck up "Yankee Doodle." A faint smile dawned on the Harriman features and began to spread. Presently he began to balance gracefully, and soon, in the midst of a circle of prominent railroad officials, he was doing the highland fling in the most abandoned style. Suddenly the band stopped playing, and Mr. Harriman gravely sat down.

Gave Reporter Milk, Not News.

At his home at Arden, N. Y., Mr. Harriman would not discuss business matters. He said to a reporter who sought him there:

"I left all my business vexations behind in New York city. This Arden to me is the Arden of 'As You Like It.' * * * a retreat from the world's worries. Here I seek to free myself from all business cares and worries, and so far I have been successful. My guests here are made to understand that they are most welcome if they abstain from talking shop. And so, my dear young man, you are most welcome to my table, but not to a financial interview. By the way, do you like milk? If you do I think you might like a glass from one of my dairies."

One of Harriman's Stories.

In declaring that we must be careful not to legislate too harshly against the country's vested interests or the prosperity of those interests and with it the country's prosperity Mr. Harriman illustrated his meaning with a story. "There was a schoolteacher," he said, "who exclaimed impatiently one afternoon:

"Johnny Jones, what are you fumbling with there?"

"Johnny hung his head and was silent. But the telltale of the class spoke up:

"It's a pin he's got, ma'am."

"Well, take it from him," said the teacher, and lunged at him."

"This was done, and then, in a mollified voice, the teacher said:

"Now, Johnny Jones, get up and recite your history lesson."

"But Johnny did not obey. He blushed, hung his head and sat still. Then he said:

"I can't, ma'am. That there pin you took is what holds my trousers up."

UNCLE SAM IS CITED TO GET BUSY AT ONCE

Court Refuses to Postpone Celebrated Libel Case.

Indianapolis, Sept. 30.—In the federal court, Judge Anderson has refused to grant a further postponement of the hearing on the question of whether Delavan Smith and Charles R. Williams shall be removed to the District of Columbia for trial on the charge of criminal libel. In his remarks accompanying his decision the judge laid stress on the apparent delay of the government in bringing the proceedings against Mr. Smith and Mr. Williams originally and on subsequent delays which have been encountered at the instance of the government.

Concluding he said the defendants were under indictment and should have a hearing or be discharged, and to Charles W. Miller, United States district attorney, who represented the government, he said: "You may write to the attorney general and tell him that I will not do it," meaning that he would not grant the further postponement, which had been requested by the government. The case will now come up in the federal court on Oct. 11, the date set when partial hearing was had last June and when there was a postponement at the request of Stuart McNamara of Washington, representing the department of justice, and District Attorney Miller, who pleaded that they had been taken by surprise by the evidence introduced by the defense and that they wished more time in which to bring in witnesses in rebuttal.

This prosecution grew out of the publication in the Indianapolis News, owned by Mr. Smith and Mr. Williams, of certain articles and editorials in regard to the purchase by the United States of the Panama canal property.

Fire Removed Last Saloon.

McMinnville, Tenn., Sept. 30.—Tennessee's only legal saloon, the Oasis, situated on a mountain top near here in such a position that it was more than four miles distant from any schoolhouse, has been burned. Under the Tennessee prohibition law saloons are not permitted within four miles of a schoolhouse. Steps to test the legality of the mountain top saloon already had been taken.

Youthful Burglar Pays Penalty.

Richmond, Ind., Sept. 30.—Frank Townsend, an eighteen-year-old boy, who robbed the safe of the Commons Dairy company, pleaded guilty on the charge of grand larceny, and was sentenced to the Jeffersonville reformatory for one to fourteen years.

MOORS DRIVEN OUT BY SPAIN

Stronghold of Disputed Territory Taken.

THIS ASSURES END OF WAR

With the Accomplishment of General Marina's Careful Plans, the Tribesmen Find Their Stronghold Taken From Them and Further Resistance Useless—As Morocco Cannot Pay the Indemnity Which Spain Will Demand, Spanish Occupation Can Be Protracted For Many Years.

Madrid, Sept. 30.—In celebration of the success of the Spanish arms in Africa, which were crowned yesterday by the occupation of Mount Guruga, the Moorish stronghold, Madrid is beflagged and illuminated. Crowds fill the Puerta Del Sol and the surrounding streets, acclaiming the news which makes a glorious ending of the war and the early return of the troops.

General Marina's skillfully planned operations are the subject of much praise. After the reverse of July 27 and the subsequent losses suffered, General Marina decided that it would be useless waste of life to proceed on a small scale in the operations and that the Moors, who have been making raids from the rocky fastnesses of Mt. Guruga, must be dislodged or outflanked. Accordingly he withdrew his advanced outposts and waited until he had concentrated 60,000 men and sixty-eight cannon, which were divided into two columns on Sept. 20. One column was sent north to Cape Tres Forcas, to prevent the possibility of a rear attack, and the other was sent southward. Both operations were successful and after Nador and Zeluan were taken the Moors evidently found themselves outflanked and evacuated the territory, for no resistance was encountered when the Spanish forces scaled the sides of the mountain and planted the flag on its summit.

What has become of the main body of the Moors is not clear from the official dispatches published here. Unofficial reports intimate that while General Marina accompanied the column to the south, the Moors doubled back west of Mt. Guruga and joined in a surprise attack upon General Somayor. Official circles, however, seem convinced that the Moors are thoroughly discouraged and the successful wind-up of the campaign is expected to arouse a wave of patriotic enthusiasm which will greatly strengthen the Maura government, whose enemies counted upon a protracted struggle, with perhaps serious reverses and possibly complete failure.

As it is manifestly impossible for Morocco to pay the indemnity which Spain will demand, Spanish occupation can be protracted for many years. The mines, which were the cause of the original trouble, are considered immensely rich, and much is expected from industrial exploitation.

How It Was Done.

Melilla, Sept. 30.—The occupation of Mt. Guruga was effected by columns operating from different points, which formed a junction at the summit. Although the troop passed the dangerous gorge Du Loup, the scene of the July disasters, not a single shot was fired at them. Melilla is given over to the wildest rejoicing.

DEATH OF COL. MORRISON

He Was For Many Years Prominent in the Nation's Councils.

Waterloo, Ill., Sept. 30.—Colonel William R. Morrison, former member of congress from the old Morrison district, and later interstate commerce commissioner, is dead at his home here. He had been unconscious for several hours, but revived shortly before the end came and spoke to relatives gathered about the bedside.

William Ralis Morrison was born in 1824 and had served as a private in the Mexican war. Returning to Illinois, he entered politics and after serving two terms in the state legislature, was elected to congress in 1863. While chairman of the house ways and means committee he introduced the tariff measure known as the "horizontal" or "Morrison" bill.

He retired from congress in 1887, and in the same year was appointed to the interstate commerce commission by President Cleveland, remaining in that position for ten years. Since 1899 Mr. Morrison had lived in retirement.

Widow Gave the Plot Away.

Hinesville, Ga., Sept. 30.—Mrs. Helen Faulling, widow of William N. Faulling, jr., for whose murder Charles A. Gordon is on trial here, on the witness stand made a sensational confession of intimacy with Gordon and ended her story by declaring he told her he killed her husband and threatened to kill her if she should tell on him.

Postoffice Wrecked by Robbers.

Sterling, Ill., Sept. 30.—The postoffice at Kasbeer, Bureau county, was dynamited by robbers. The building was wrecked and $50 in cash and $50 in stamps were taken.

An item from a country correspondent says: "Our supervisor has placed a large amount of gravel on the highways this fall."

That is about all these supervisors do—"place" the gravel on the highways. "Dump" covers the case better. They dump the gravel on the highways and there it lays all in a heap in the middle of the road—a system of road making of fifty years ago. Supervisors who aspire to this office should at least read up a little and use more modern methods.

Here's Where the Fun Comes In

Yesterday was Bill Redman's "Jonah Day," and it was not Thursday either. But his misfortunes extended over into today and may have been the cause of it all. He had a buyer for his auto runabout and took the machine to Indianapolis yesterday to show it. He found his would-be purchaser at home and called him out in front of the house to exhibit his automobile. He was speeding up and down the pavement showing the powers of his auto when a blue-coated figure bobbed up in front of him and commanded him to stop.

Well, now Bill did not want to break the law and he just backed up to where the cop was standing because he was going so fast that he went right by on the first call to stop. The policeman told him that he was exceeding the speed limit and placed him under arrest. Bill tried to explain, but the cop had his orders to arrest speed smashers and he would not let him go down to this friend's house and explain his difficulty.

So the policeman climbed in the machine and the two rode down to the home of the man who was looking at the machine. Bill could see the bars of the city prison staring him in the face and what would he tell the folks back home? But Dame Fortune favored him here, for the friend nodded to know the "bull" on the beat and finally talked him out of making the arrest after he explained that the machine was being shown to him and that Bill was just from Rush county and not often in the city, and therefore did not know the speed ways of the metropolis. After much argument with the official it was finally decided to let the offender go free just this one time if he promised not to commit the offense again. And on top of all that he sold the machine.

But Bill's troubles did not end there. He was up bright and early this morning as if nothing had ever happened. He went up to the attic in his home to hang up some tents. He was so "intent" upon the work he had to do that he slipped off of one the rafters and went through the plastering and into the ceiling. In some manner he nearly cut the end off one of his thumbs and is carrying it around today "all bound round with a woolen string" and some cheese cloth too.

BY THE WAYSIDE

Greensburg News: He is a traction car conductor. He wears the brass buttons and blue cloth in dandy style and can assume a look of severity on the slightest occasion if a passenger gets on his car bound for any other destination than Shelbyville or the Capital City. His car is the Express you know. This little incident occurred Sunday. "Daddy C." had taken a trip into the country in quest of the Indiana banana. He found lots of the famous fruit and in large quantities he stored them away in the pockets of his coat—the same that tickets more often fill. All would have been well and "Daddy C." would have enjoyed his pawpaws if he hadn't thoughtlessly placed an over-ripe fruit in the bottom. Naturally when the others were crowded in upon it there was a grand squeeze and a squash. The fruit splashed all over Dad's pocket and when he looked at the havoc that was wrought, it took all the appetite for pawpaws out of him. Now this particular conductor wears an overcoat and is kept busy explaining just how it all happened and where is the better piece to his pretty uniform.

"Would you be angry with me if I were to kiss you?" asked a young man last Sunday evening.

She was silent for a moment. Then in tones the meaning of which was not to be mistaken, she replied:

"Why, do you suppose, I turned down th elight an hour and a half ago?"

And yet he wondered, poor fool, how other young men who had started in the rear were able to pass him in the race of life.

There ain't nothin more menaen' to this country than the race problem. The only solution to 't ez I see it, is to do away with all the race tracks. It don't take a smart man to drive a fast horse or make a big bet. From the number uv fellars that usually bet at the races it certainly must take a lot o' money to make the mare go. The same enthusiasm an money that is put into a horse race 'll boom Rushville Big. Yours, BILL SEEDLING.

Red Cross Stamp Campaign

The Christmas stamp bureau of the American Red Cross society opened at Indianapolis in Room 246 of the Federal building yesterday morning and the campaign for the sale of the stamps began. The bureau will give its time during October to organizing a selling force throughout the State and hopes to enlist the efforts of organizations and individuals who are interested in philanthropic work.

Last year the Indiana branch of the Red Cross had clubs and individual agents for the stamps in about eighty cities and towns and the club hopes to increase greatly the number that the stamps may be placed within easy reach of all who wish them. They do not pay the postage of a letter or Christmas parcel, but carry a cheery greeting from the sender. The use of the stamps is timely through November and December, including New Year's mail.

A new stamp will be used this season and the bureau intends to make its first order for one million. The proceeds from the sale of stamps goes into the Red Cross fund for fighting the white plague. Two-thirds of the amount raised in Indiana will be spent in this State and the other third will go to the national treasury of the Red Cross to combat tuberculosis in other parts of the country.

AMUSEMENTS

Complete change of program at the Vaudeville theater tonight.

Complete change of program at the Palace theater tonight.

The Star-Grand offers tonight two subjects. The first is a comedy entitled "The Little Soldier" and deals with a love affair from childhood. It is a hand-colored picture and is very beautiful. The second subject is a scene in Sweden, "The Gotha Canal." In this interesting picture you are given the rare privilege of viewing some of the magnificent scenery around the city of Stockholm. On account of dangerous rapids in the river the boats are compelled to pass through the Gotha canal, and herewith is given a good picture of the locks in operation, showing the boat going through them, and then peacefully sailing down the stream. All along the river bank the scenery is magnificent, and a clear view of the ancient Vadsteva Castle is given. Earl Robertson will sing "Love Me All the Time."

PARSIFAL.

Many people from this city will go to Connorsville tonight to attend the production of Parsifal at the Auditorium there. The more one seeks for the original source of the mythical legend of the "Holy Grail," which is the foundation of Richard Wagner's beautiful spectacle of "Parsifal," the more one becomes bewildered at the many different explanations that present themselves. Eminent writers and scholars have presented their individual views, arriving at many different conclusions. They all agree, however, in admitting that the legend in its various forms existed long before Christianity became so potent a factor in the world's history. From a close study of the subject one would come to the belief that the legend, in practically the same form, but with a different direct meaning, had been created in pagan lands of the earliest antiquity, and later had been adopted by the early christian church in its mystery plays and so handed down to us in its present different forms. Certain it is, however, that Wagner must have made a close study of the vast material bearing upon the subject, and in the production of "Parsifal" gives up an idyllic story of composite nature that is exquisitely told.

THE PRINCE CHAP.

Edward Peple's delightful comedy drama, "The Prince Chap" will be seen at Connorsville for the first time at the Auditorium on Saturday night, under the management of Charles Emerson Cook, who was formerly the general representative for David Belasco. The play is the story of a struggling artist who adopts a little orphan girl to find her one day blossoming into womanhood and to discover that they love each other. It is a story of heart, interest, clean, wholesome, full of pathos and comedy and the kind of play one may enjoy and be better for seeing.

LOVING CUP WAS WON BY BEAVER

Good Crowd at Weekly Gun Club Shoot With Ideal Weather Conditions.

BALLISTILE TROPHY IS ENDED

Dr. F. M. Sparks Made the Best Score in Club Sliding Handicap Event.

Good scores characterized the weekly handicap shoot at the Gun and Country club grounds yesterday afternoon. A good crowd was out for the event and ideal weather conditions prevailed. Another trophy was won yesterday, thus leaving only one to occupy the boards in the shoot to come.

The Ballistile trophy, a beautiful loving cup was won yesterday for the third time by Earl Beaver, and now becomes his property after occupying the attention of the shooters for seven weeks. Dr. E. F. VanOsdol, Charley Brooks and C. Williams each had hold on the event, each having won it.

Beaver with a handicap of five made a perfect score when he broke twenty out of a possible twenty-five, and thus clinched the trophy, which was prized very highly. His closest contestant was Dr. F. M. Sparks who lacked two of making a perfect score.

The hand-painted vase, which is offered by the club as their trophy and which has been shot for several weeks was won by Dr. F. M. Sparks. His handicap of three made it possible for him to defeat his nearest opponents, Dr. McClanahan and Charles Brooks, who also broke nineteen out of twenty-five pigeons.

The result of the sliding handicap club trophy yesterday puts another contestant in the field and makes the race more interesting. Earl Beaver has won the event twice and is in the running while Dr. F. R. McClanahan has won it once.

The scores are as follows:

Don't Forget the Exhibits

Members of the Y. M. C. C. want to impress upon farmers, farm owners, gardeners, etc., the necessity of getting their exhibits to headquarters at once. Manufacturers and their representatives from a distance are coming to the headquarters and the importance of a favorable impression can not be overestimated. One of the factory people who counts upon moving his factory here, inquired the other day as to whether bricks were made here. He would need a lot of brick, he said, in putting up the factory. He was told that very good brick were made here. Many things along these lines will be needed and may bring the exhibitors several good big orders. A good agricultural display will do much to impress the people in and about Rushville as well as those who come from a distance, with the resources of this community. Farmers, gardeners, etc., please hurry up with your exhibit.

It is remarkable that notwithstanding the love and devotion of the Jewish mother there seems to be no trace of a real Jewish lullaby. Those known are of a recent origin.

Battalion of Tenth Regiment Will Visit Richmond Fall Festival Next Week.

OTHER FEATURES ATTRACTIVE

A dispatch from Richmond says: Colonel Green of the Tenth United States Infantry, stationed at Ft. Benjamin Harrison, has accepted the invitation of the Richmond Fall Festival to have his command represented at the big local event, probably arriving here the first day of the Festival, Wednesday, October 6. This battalion consists of three hundred officers and men and carried off the highest honors of the great military carnival held the past summer at Toledo. The regulars—the dandy Yankee fighting men—will be camped at beautiful Glen Miller. Aviator Bumbaugh has made arrangements to make two flights daily in his new dirigible airship, which is propelled and steered like an ocean liner. This will be one of the distinct features of the festival. Another one of the great hits will be the horse show, lasting the entire three days. It will probably be the finest display of horsemesh ever seen in Indiana.

An eight-inch disk of cardboard revolved on the shaft of an electric motor of highest speed gets stiff, owing to the rotary tension, which makes it be have like metal, and it can no longer be bent. If struck with a hammer, a sound emits like that from bronze. It easily saws a soft iron, when rapidly rotated, cuts through heavy armor plate. Centrifugal force does many other strange things. Among others, when a small chain is looped around a high-speed rotary drum the chain can be shoved off the drum to the ground, where it bounces up, and when struck acts like a ring of solid metal.

LAST FAINT ECHO OF BARTINE CIRCUS

Properties Held Here For Storage Money After Show Stranded Here Shipped to Hamilton.

The last faint echoes of the stranding of the Bartine dog and pony show in this city several months ago, was heard today, when the remainder of the properties were hauled from the Hiner barn and shipped to Hamilton, Ohio.

The show was the property of Frank Silbert, marshal of St. Mary's, Ohio, and was only leased by Charles Bartine. John Hiner has been holding the tents and other properties for storage money. Silbert was here about two weeks ago and paid most of the rent due and left orders not to let the property go without his order.

Long & Webb of Hamilton, Ohio, purchased the goods. They have a training barn in Hamilton and will start the show on the road next year.

MADE GOOD PROFIT ON RACE HORSE FIND

Forty-Dollar Duke of Wellington is Sold for $500 After One Season Pacing.

PURCHASED BY JOHN RHODES

It will be remembered that the Duke of Wellington, the forty-dollar race horse find, was a big winner at the local fair and has been all season. He was owned by a man near Milroy, who sold him for a good sum. The Greensburg News says of the sale:

John W. Rhodes has bought from John Tilley the five-year-old pacer, "Duke of Wellington," for which he paid five hundred good dollars. John knew what he was buying and John knew what he was selling, so both are satisfied with the trade. The Duke took a trial spin the other day on our half mile track that is two seconds slow, and made a full mile in 2:14, making the last half in 1:05. Keep your eyes on the Duke. He will start in a race at Lebanon, Ohio, Thursday, and is going after the purse for his winter's feed.

MORE FACTORIES MORE BUSINESS

Location of Industries Means Greater Prosperity For Merchants And Farmers as Well.

OPPORTUNITIES INCREASED

If There is Variety in Lines of Employment Offered to Laboring Men.

Those who feel satisfied with the development which has been reached by the fact that Rushville is surrounded by a superlatively fine farming and stock raising country should consider that it would be difficult for any community to reach a higher state of development in these lines than has already been reached, without the additions of factories. More stores will not help conditions in demands of the products of the farm. The professions are about as numerous as represented as is necessary under present conditions. Estimating that there are about 3000 farmers in Rush county; Rushville does not get all the trade of these. Neighboring towns are competitors for this patronage.

The location of some factories will draw others here. The transportation facilities of the city are excellent. The products of some are frequently used in other factories. Hence some draw others. The new factory addition is exceedingly well located to afford the proper switching facilities, etc. Factory operators buy nearly everything they consume and buy it at home. Farmers raise a very considerable portion of what they consume, of foodstuffs nearly all.

Inasmuch as it is not probable that these business demands can be increased by the higher development in agriculture and in stock raising, the best opportunity for increasing such demands it appears comes from the addition of a factory population. These will increase property values, will rent all vacant houses and will call for the erection of many more houses, thus making work for many artisans additionally.

A variety of industries in a town gives a better opportunity to the people of the community to employ their talents and energies in the best manner possible. All the people may not be entirely fitted to raise corn or hogs or cotton with pleasure and profit. Many will prefer manufacturing, banking, mercantile or mechanical work. The resources of a community are not nearly so great when they are only agricultural as when manufacturing, mining and commercial occupations are added. Commerce aids much when the town is one which is a division point of a railroad, for instance, so that it becomes a convenient residence place for many railroad men and their families. The weekly or monthly pay of the railroads thus adds many thousands of dollars to the money in circulation in the community.

This is true, also, when manufacturing industries are added. The resources of the community are thus made better, not only for mercantile business, but for schools, churches and for such municipal improvements as sidewalks, sewers, roadways, water, electricity, etc. The burden of taxation is thus borne in part by many, according to their financial ability, where formerly it fell upon the few.

Where traction systems have been completed many of the young people living in the country are able to attend high schools and colleges in a nearby town and yet live at home. If such a town were dead; if its diversified industries were taken away; if the mercantile business were not supported so that the stocks were not kept up; there would be few inducements for them to attend school in such a town.

CHAPTER XL.

Crawling Stone Wash.

When Whispering Smith and his companions were fairly started on the last day of their ride, it was toward a rift in the Mission range that the trail led them. Sinclair, with consummate cleverness, had rejoined his companions; but the attempt to get into the Cache, and his reckless ride into Medicine Bend, had reduced their chances of escape to a single outlet, and that they must find up Crawling Stone valley. The necessity of it was spelled in every move the pursued men had made for 24 hours. They were riding the pick of mountain horseflesh and covering their tracks by every device known to the high country. Behind them, made prudent by unusual danger, rode the best men the mountain division could muster for the final effort to bring them to account. The fast riding of the early week had given way to the pace of caution. No trail sign was overlooked, no point of concealment directly approached, no hiding-place left unsearched.

The tension of a long day of this work was drawing to a close when the sun set and left the big wash in the shadow of the mountains. On the higher ground to the right, Kennedy and Scott were riding where they could command the gullies of the precipitous left bank of the river. High on the left bank itself, worming his way like a snake from point to point of concealment through the scanty brush of the mountain-side, crawled Wickwire, commanding the pockets in the right bank. Closer to the river on the right and following the trail itself over shale and rock and between scattered boulders, Whispering Smith, low on his horse's neck, rode slowly.

It was almost too dark to catch the slight discolorations where pebbles had been disturbed on a flat surface or the calk of a horseshoe had slipped on the uneven face of a ledge, and he had halted under an uplift to wait for Wickwire on the distant left to advance, when, half a mile below him, a horseman crossing the river rode slowly past a gap in the rocks and disappeared below the next bend. He was followed in a moment by a second rider and a third. Whispering Smith knew he had not been seen. He had flushed the game, and, wheeling his horse rode straight up the river-bank to high ground, where he could circle around widely below them. They had slipped between his line and Wickwire's, and were doubling back, following the dry bed of the stream. It was impossible to recall Kennedy and Scott without giving an alarm, but by a quick detour he could at least hold the quarry back for 20 minutes with his rifle, and in that time Kennedy and Scott could come up.

Less than half an hour of daylight remained. If the outlaws could slip down the wash and out into the Crawling Stone valley they had every chance of getting away in the night; and if the third man should be Barney Rebstock, Whispering Smith knew that Sinclair thought only of escape. Smith alone, of their pursuers, could now intercept them, but a second hope remained: On the left, Wickwire was high enough to command every turn in the bed of the river. He might see them and could force them to cover with his rifle even at long range. Casting up the chances, Whispering Smith, riding faster over the uneven ground than anything but sheer recklessness would have prompted, hastened across the waste. His rifle lay in his hand, and he had pushed his horse to a run. A single fearful instant crowded now upon the long strain of the week. A savage fascination burned like a fever in his veins, and he meant that they should not get away. Taking chances that would have shamed him in cooler moments, he forced his horse at the end of the long ride to within 100 paces of the river, threw his lines, slipped like a lizard from the saddle, and, darting with incredible swiftness from rock to rock, gained the water's edge.

From up the long shadows of the wash there came the wail of an owl. From it he knew that Wickwire had seen them and was warning him, but he had anticipated the warning and stood below where the hunted men must ride. He strained his eyes over the waste of rock above. For one half-hour of daylight he would have sold, in that moment, ten years of his life. What could he do if they should be able to secrete themselves until dark between him and Wickwire? Gliding under cover of huge rocks up the dry watercourse, he reached a spot where the floods had scooped a long, hollow curve out of a soft ledge in the bank, leaving a stretch of smooth sand on the bed of the stream. At the upper point great boulders pushed out of the river. He could not inspect the curve from the spot he had gained without reckless exposure, but he must force the little daylight left to him. Climbing completely over the lower point, he advanced cautiously, and from behind a sheltering spur stepped out upon an overhanging table of rock and looked across the river-bottom. Three men had halted on the sand within the curve. Two lay on their rifles under the upper point, 120 paces from Whispering Smith. The third man, Seagrue, less than 50 yards away, had got off his horse and was laying down his rifle, when the hoot-owl screeched again and he looked uneasily back. They had chosen for their halt a spot easily defended, and needed only darkness to make them safe, when Smith, stepping out into plain sight, threw forward his hand.

They heard his sharp call to pitch up, and the men under the point jumped. Seagrue had not yet taken his hand from his rifle. He threw it to his shoulder. As closely together as two fingers of the right hand can be struck twice in the palm of the left, two rifle-shots cracked across the wash. Two bullets passed so close in flight they might have struck. One cut the lustrous hair from Smith's temple and slit the brim of his hat above his ear; the other struck Seagrue under the left eye, plowed through the roof of his mouth, and, coming out below his ear, splintered the rock at his back.

The shock alone would have staggered a bullock, but Seagrue, laughing, came forward pumping his gun. Sinclair, at 120 yards, cut instantly into the fight, and the ball from his rifle creased the alkali that crusted Whispering Smith's unshaven cheek. As he fired he sprang to cover.

For Seagrue and Smith there was no cover; for one or both it was death in the open and Seagrue, with his rifle at his cheek, walked straight into it. Taking for a moment the fire of the three guns, Whispering Smith stood, a perfect target, outlined against the sky. They whipped the dust from his

ROOT JUICE IS DOING IT

Scores of Local People Praising It.

These last days of the Root Juice demonstrations at Wolcott's drug store, it is hard to get the great medicine in fast enough to supply the demand. The scientist said: "While many people of Rushville are surprised at the sales at this point, it is not surprising to me, as at Fort Wayne, Akron, Janesville and many other points, the demand for the juice is so great that the people at the laboratory at Ft. Wayne are often behind with orders as much as two weeks." Those who are interested in the remedy should go to the drug store and listen to the reports of the dozens of people that are calling daily. Among the many to testify to the great good Root Juice is doing here in Rushville, was a well-known business man who said: "My wife has been a long sufferer from catarrh of the stomach, bowels and bladder; her kidneys were so badly deranged, she suffered a great deal with pains in the small of her back and stomach and bowels, her tongue was badly coated and she always had a bad taste in her mouth; she was very nervous, sleep did not refresh her. In fact she had so many pains and they were frequently so severe that she couldn't tell what part of the body pained her most. She has treated with doctors for months at a time and took many kinds of medicines, but was growing worse all the time. Of late our neighbors have been talking so much about Root Juice and telling of the wonderful things it is doing, that she decided to try it. She has been using it but a short while, but is almost entirely free from pain and is gaining in strength very rapidly. I don't believe she would have lived three months if it hadn't been for Root Juice." Those who have not visited Wolcott's drug store during the past three weeks can have no idea of the number of people that have expressed themselves as wonderfully benefited after taking the Root Juice a short while. Many have called to report a complete cure, and many others have said: "I am fast recovering health under the Juice treatment. The great remedy is so soothing, healing and strengthening to the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels, that it seems to cause every one that takes it to feel better in a very few days. We are told that the demonstration will close next Saturday night and until then the Juice is sold for $1 a bottle or three for $2.50 coat, tore the sleeve from his wrist and ripped the blouse collar from his neck; but he felt no bullet shock. He saw before him only the buckle of Seagrue's belt 40 paces away, and sent bullet after bullet at the gleam of brass between the sights. Both men were using high-pressure guns, and the deadly shocks of the slugs made Seagrue twitch and stagger. The man was dying as he walked. Smith's hand was racing with the lever, and had a cartridge jammed, the steel would have snapped like a match.

It was beyond human endurance to support the leaden death. The little square of brass between the sights wavered. Seagrue stumbled, doubled on his knees, and staggering plunged loosely forward on the sand. Whispering Smith threw his fire toward the boulder behind which Sinclair and Barney Rebstock had disappeared. Suddenly he realized that the bullets from the point were not coming his way. He was aware of a second rifle-duel above the bend. Wickwire, worming his way down the stream, had uncovered Sinclair and young Rebstock from behind. A yell between the shots rang across the wash, and the cowering figure of a man ran out toward Whispering Smith with his hands high in the air, and pitched headlong on the ground. It was the skulker, Barney Rebstock, driven out by Wickwire's fire.

The shooting ceased. Silence fell upon the gloom of the dusk. Then came a calling between Smith and Wickwire, and a signaling of pistol-shots for their companions. Kennedy

Not Sisters

Now and again you see two women passing down the street who look like sisters. You are astonished to learn that they are mother and daughter, and you realize that a woman at forty or forty-five ought to be at her finest and fairest. Why isn't it so? The general health of woman is so intimately associated with the local health of the essentially feminine organs that there can be no red cheeks and round form where there is female weakness.

Women who have suffered from this trouble have found prompt relief and cure in the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It gives vigor and vitality to the organs of womanhood. It clears the complexion, brightens the eyes and reddens the cheeks.

No alcohol, or habit-forming drugs is contained in "Favorite Prescription." Any sick woman may consult Dr. Pierce by letter, free. Every letter is held as sacredly confidential, and answered in a plain envelope. Address: World's Dispensary Medical Association, Dr. R. V. Pierce, Pres., Buffalo, N. Y.

and Bob Scott dashed down toward the river bed on their horses. Seagrue lay on his face. Young Rebstock sat with his hands around his knees on the sand. Above him at some distance, Wickwire and Smith stood before a man who leaned against the sharp cheek of the boulder at the point. In his hands his rifle was held across his lap just as he had dropped on his knee to fire. He had never moved after he was struck. His head, drooping a little, rested against the rock, and his hat lay on the sand; his heavy beard had sunk into his chest and he knelt in the shadow, asleep. Scott and Kennedy knew him. In the mountains there was no double for Murray Sinclair.

FLYERS AT NEW YORK

Both Wright and Curtiss Will Give Exhibitions in Aviation.

New York, Sept. 23.—The first aviation event during the Hudson-Fulton celebration will probably be a flight from Governor's Island across the lower bay and around the statue of Liberty. Glenn H. Curtiss, winner of the first international aviation contest, has announced that he will attempt to make this flight as soon as possible after he has assembled his machine.

Wilbur Wright, who has his machine almost in flying shape, met Curtiss for the first time since the latter returned from his European triumphs. The meeting, which took place in Wright's shed on Governor's Island, was cordial. No ill-feeling exists because of the suit which the Wright brothers have brought against the Herring-Curtiss company for alleged infringement of patents. The machine which Wilbur Wright will use is of exactly the same dimensions as that which his brother Orville used at Fort Myer last year. Curtiss will make no flights in a wind of more than five or six miles, but it is likely that Wright may attempt flights in a higher wind if it is from a favorable direction. Wright's contract with the celebration committee requires a flight of one hour duration, while Curtiss has the option of making any flight which his judgment dictates.

ALL NATIONS GATHER

One Distinctive Feature of the Hudson-Fulton Celebration.

New York, Sept. 30.—The vice president of the United States and the governor of New York; the personal representatives of the emperors of Germany and Japan; the diplomatic representatives of twenty-five nations and the special delegates of twenty-eight, sat down to table last night in the great banquet hall of the Hotel Astor as the official guests of the Hudson-Fulton celebration commission. There were in addition the officers of eight navies and the admirals of four; a representative of the United States senate in the person of Elihu Root, members of the New York state legislature and officers of the municipality of New York. It was one of the most brilliant banquets that the country has ever seen.

The gold lace of rank, the decorations of distinguished service and the robes of Archbishop Farley of the Roman Catholic church, who pronounced the invocation, made the room sparkle with color. Upstairs the balconies were filled with handsomely gowned women.

Earth's Plane in Comet's Path. Providence, R. I., Sept. 30.—Frank E. Seagrave, a Providence astronomer, whose calculations relative to Halley's comet have attracted widespread attention, announces that the correction of a slight error in the calculations of the comet has developed the discovery that on May 19, 1910, the comet will reach the same plane as the earth in its orbit. It is therefore determined that the tail of the comet will sweep across this plane instead of clearing it.

To think of the waste of natural resources in the burning up of Roosevelt's mail sent "care of the Outlook" while he is hiking through the African jungle!

If "hypnotic eyes" will win legislators to woman suffrage, there's no denying that the suffragists are well fixed with the sinews of war.

DIARRHOEA

There is no need of anyone suffering long with this disease, for to effect a quick cure it is only necessary to take a few doses of

Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy

In fact, in most cases one dose is sufficient. It never fails and can be relied upon in the most severe and dangerous cases. It is equally valuable for children and is the means of saving the lives of many children each year.

In the world's history no medicine has ever met with greater success.

AIRSHIPS BEAT THE BALLOONS

Practical Test of Merits of Respective Machines.

LIBERTY STATUE ENCIRCLED

Sweeping Out Over the Bay, Wilbur Wright Successfully Accomplished a Test of Airships Which Had Long Been Tempting Aviators—Captain Baldwin and Tomlinson in Their Efforts to Sail Their Dirigible Balloons to Albany Meet With Failure—Curtiss Makes Good Flight.

New York, Sept. 30.—The principal event of today's program was the military parade, in which more than 25,000 troops marched. It was participated in by the United States army, navy and marine corps, the national guard and naval militia, and marines and sailors from the foreign vessels now anchored in the Hudson.

MAKES HAIR GROW.

Johnson's Drug Store Has an Invigorator That Makes Hair Grow in Abundantly or Money Back.

If your hair is thinning out gradually it won't be long before the bald spot appears.

The time to take care of the hair is when you have hair to take care of. For thin falling hair the best remedy known to mankind is Parisian Sage. It is compounded on scientific principles and furnishes to the hair root a nourishment that acts quickly and promptly and causes the hair to grow.

But remember this: It kills the dandruff germ, the pest that appropriates all the natural nourishment that should go to the hair root.

Parisian Sage is sold by Johnson's Drug Store under a positive guarantee to banish dandruff, stop falling hair and itching scalp in two weeks or money back.

It gives to women's hair a lustre and radiance that is most fascinating and causes it to grow abundantly.

Parisian Sage is now sold in every first-class town in America. A large generous bottle costs 50 cents, and the girl with Auburn hair is on every bottle.

New York, Sept. 30.—The first day of flight of the Hudson-Fulton celebration was a victory for the heavier-than-air machine. Wilbur Wright circled the great statue of Liberty at the entrance to New York harbor in his aeroplane, while in the upper part of the city two huge dirigible balloons failed ingloriously in their task.

Both Wright and Glenn H. Curtiss soared successfully from the aerodrome on Governor's Island in their motor-propelled biplanes; both great dirigibles, manned respectively by Captain Thomas Baldwin and George L. Tomlinson and entered in the New York World's $10,000 New York-to-Albany race, were forced to descend because of mechanical difficulties before they were well under way.

Wilbur Wright made three sensational flights and Curtiss made one brief though successful test spin of thirty seconds' duration. Baldwin, with his dirigible, landed in the Hudson river less than an hour after the start, while Tomlinson, after remaining in the air for two hours, came to earth near White Plains, N. Y., twenty-two miles from his starting point. Neither of the dirigible pilots was injured, nor was either craft seriously damaged.

With a lull in the general Hudson-Fulton ceremonies, the eyes of all New York and her million visitors were turned toward Governor's Island, where the aeroplane flights were held, and toward Fulton flight square, at 119th street and Riverside drive, the starting point of the New York-to-Albany race. Wright on his first ascent circled Governor's Island, remaining in the air for seven minutes. After an hour's rest, Wright again went aloft, this time remaining in the air for six minutes and thirty seconds, attaining a speed estimated at fifty miles an hour and with a glorious sweep out over the bay, passing entirely around the great emblem of liberty on Bedloe's Island to the northwest.

Not content with these spectacular feats, Wright made a third flight. He did not attempt to fly over the water, nor did he go to any great height, but executed two complete circles in the air, then made an excellent landing. Wright's action in circling the statue of Liberty is taken as a challenge to Curtiss, for Curtiss, it will be recalled, was the first to mention such a flight. From now on it is expected that the two aviators will strive to outdo each other, although neither will do anything reckless.

TAFT VIEWS BIG WESTERN SHOW

Presidential Party at Alaska-Yukon Exposition.

A FULL DAY OF SIGHT SEEING

The President is Giving the Entire Day Today to a View of the Manifold Attractions at the Seattle Fair, and Will Speak at a Banquet at the Exposition Grounds Tonight—From Seattle He Will Go to Tacoma and Will Then Turn His Face South.

Seattle, Wash., Sept. 30.—Just two weeks after his start from Boston President Taft reached the Pacific coast last night. When he leaves Seattle for Tacoma tomorrow afternoon and leaves that city at midnight his course will be south until Los Angeles is reached, and then comes the turn once more to face the rising sun.

The president and his party were met at the union station here on their arrival by a reception committee of two dozen members. The visitors and the reception committee entered automobiles and, preceded by a troop of mounted police, proceeded to the Rainier club, where a reception in honor of the president was given by Mrs. Richard A. Ballinger, wife of the secretary of the interior.

After half an hour at the club the president and his escort went to the Hotel Washington, which will be the home of the visitors until their departure for Tacoma tomorrow afternoon. A great throng waited for the president at the station and along the brilliantly lighted streets through which he passed, and there was cheering at every step of the way.

The visit to the Alaska-Yukon-Pacific exposition began at 9:30 this morning, and Mr. Taft first made a tour of the grounds. After luncheon he made an address in the natural amphitheater. The president also will speak at a banquet at the exposition grounds during the evening, so his entire day will be devoted to the fair.

The president on his way to Seattle passed through another section which displayed its marvels in the way of fruit raising. At North Yakima, where he passed the entire forenoon and made an address, the president saw one of the oldest irrigated fruit districts in the far west. The great yield of apples especially attracted his attention.

Prosperity in Limelight

With the resumption of industrial activity over the country will be resumed the advance of Indiana to the leading place as a manufacturing State. Rushville intends to get some of the good things coming this way. Many of the mills of the country are running both day and night to supply the demands made by a depleted market. The country is coming again to a high tide of prosperity. This means that business will continue to grow better and practically all good forms of investment will rise. Keep these points in mind when the lot sale of the factory addition begins. This picture represents the manner in which prosperity will rise in Rushville through the success of the Y. M. C. C. movement.

A number of people from this city went to Carthage today to attend the horse show.

We Do House Painting

Our workmen are all old, experienced and reliable mechanics, and all our materials are fully guaranteed, so we CAN and DO guarantee all our work.

Why We Advocate Fall Painting

Because in the fall the weather is more uniformly warm and sunny and more settled.
Because in the fall paint can be more successfully applied than in damp, cloudy or unsettled weather.
Because in the fall there are usually no dust-laden, insect carrying winds.
Because in the fall the wood is dry and the paint penetrates deeper, securing a firmer hold on it.
Because in the fall a paint application dries harder, more naturally and consequently will wear longer.
